Turkey Denies War Charge

U. N. Meets in Urgent Session Over Mid-East

By TOM HOGE
UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Produced by Syria and the Soviet Union, the 82-nation U. N. Assembly called an urgent session today to take up charges the United States and Turkey are about to touch off a Middle East war.

The 17-nation steering committee scheduled an afternoon meeting for the formality of referring to the Assembly Syria's charge that she is in danger of an imminent Turkish attack.

Reds Back Charge
The Assembly planned to convene right after the steering committee meeting to take up the Syrian complaint, which was seconded by a Soviet charge that the United States is masterminding the alleged plot. The Russians said the Turks plan to attack immediately after their elections on Oct. 27.

Turkey's U. N. delegate, Seyfullah Esin, termed the Syrian charge fantastic. He said the Soviet accusation was part of a Kremlin campaign to "put the blame for the tense situation in the Middle East on the shoulders of Turkey and the United States."

U. S. delegates conferred busily with other delegations, seeking support for a U. N. investigation of the Syrian charges but also of the U. S.-Turkish contention that Russian arms deliveries to Syria and Soviet maneuvers in the Middle East are the real threat to peace there.

Indications were that the Assembly might call emergency weekend sessions if the debate got into full swing. There was widespread hope at the U. N. that a debate on the crisis would give the nations immediately involved a chance to let off steam and would keep the conflict a battle of words.

Principals Less Concerned
At home, the Turks and Syrians seemed somewhat less concerned over the situation along their common border than their representatives and allies at the U. N.

The Syrian army was put on the alert, but a spokesman explained that meant only that officers' leaves were cancelled. The Syrian cabinet met for an hour in Damascus and decided general mobilization was not necessary. Arms were distributed to civilian "resistance" groups in centers near the Turkish border.

Turkey forcefully rejected again Syrian charges that Turkey plans aggression. It accused Syria in turn of not acting in "good faith."

Vols Endorse Making Bingo Legal in State
Bingo was endorsed by the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association Thursday night at the monthly meeting held at Woodstock. The association went on record as favoring the amendment which would permit bingo in the state. Each member of the fire companies in the county was asked to work for passage of the amendment.

Under an amendment to be submitted at the general election in November the voters will be asked to express their opinion as to whether or not bingo should become legal for non-profit organizations.

A state training course is to be held shortly at Albany under the direction of the Division of Safety of the State. This will include a course in training for emergency squads and will demonstrate methods of fighting fires in vehicles, rescue of persons from burning vehicles and other emergency work. Anyone over 16 years of age interested in this work may attend the school with expenses paid. The course will be given in Albany and while the date has not yet been set it is expected it will be held on a weekend.

Beatty also reported the Dutchess County firemen were

Wallender Survey Is To Be Free

Two Selected Men Will Go to School

Kingston will gain the advice and assistance of a man who headed the world's largest police force as the result of police board action yesterday.

Arthur Wallender, New York City's police commissioner during the 1940's will make a survey without cost to the city, Mayor Frederick H. Stang said today.

To Scrutinize Force
The former commissioner, who is still active in a phase of New York's police work, the mayor said, "has agreed to make a preliminary survey of the administration, control, operation and methods of procedure in the police department."

The mayor also announced today that a sergeant and a lieutenant of the local force will attend the New York State Police Academy, Albany for four weeks starting Nov. 11. Arrangements are also in progress for a police school here to be conducted with the cooperation of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The sergeant and lieutenant, who will attend the Albany school will be selected within the next few days. The academy is conducted by the New York State Police.

No Probe Connection
Former Commissioner Wallender conferred with the local board yesterday. Mayor Stang noted that the board's move in seeking his assistance, had nothing to do with recently requested investigations. First steps toward seeking his advice and help, he said, were taken Oct. 10.

Wallender, who was still New York's police commissioner in the 1940's, rose to the high post through the ranks. He has also served as head of civil defense in the city, as a deputy mayor, and is now engaged in reorganizing police work in the municipal housing projects. His record as boss of New York's "finest" is of itself considered one of the finest.

Can Revamp Department
Mayor Stang's statement today in behalf of the local police board, which he heads, said: "The board feels that a man of his outstanding ability and reputation can and will bring to Kingston a wealth of experience in police matters."

Police Chief Raymond VanBuren's report to the board yesterday showed 78 arrests made and 23 persons injured in 17 traffic mishaps in September.

Of the arrests, 32 were for public intoxication, 10 for disorderly conduct, nine for city traffic code violations, seven for third degree assault, five for malicious mischief, four for juvenile delinquency, five for violations of the vehicle and traffic law, two for indecent exposure and one for violation of parole and three for third degree burglary.

Disposition of Cases
Of those arrested, 12 received jail sentences, 19 sentences were suspended, four paid fines, 10 forfeited bail, two cases went to the grand jury, three were discharged and 22 cases are pending.

Six pedestrians were hurt in the reported traffic mishaps, 13 were injured in collisions involving two or more vehicles, two were bicycle mishaps and two were hurt when vehicles ran off roadways.

Register Today Or Saturday to Vote on Nov. 5
Polls of the 13 wards of Kingston are open to 10 p. m. today for citizens to register for voting on Election Day, Tuesday, Nov. 5.

Saturday is the final day. Poll hours tomorrow are from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Only registered men and women can vote on Election Day.

In the rural areas of the county, registration polls will be open Saturday from 1 p. m. to 10 p. m.

Store Mess Charged to 6 Glasco Boys

Two 16-year-old Glasco youths have been arrested and four juveniles have been turned over to Children's Court following an investigation by the Ulster County sheriff's department of damage to property and merchandise at the Washburn Brothers Company store, located on the riverfront at Glasco.

Arrested on Wednesday by County Investigator Arthur H. Brown and Deputy Thomas Mayone was Charles Carl Policastro, of Box 118, Glasco, on a third degree burglary charge. Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Milhard Davis, town of Ulster, Policastro waived examination and was held for the grand jury.

Michael Joseph Galutch, also of Glasco, was arrested Thursday by Brown and Mayone on a malicious mischief charge. He appeared before Police Justice Ernest E. Schirmer, village of Saugerties, and a hearing was set for October 24. He was paroled in his own recognizance.

Policastro allegedly stole some bolts of cloth from the store, it was reported.

Going to Children's Court
Names of the juveniles, who have been turned over to Children's Court, were withheld because of their ages.

Brown said the investigation followed a report received October 12 by the sheriff's office that the store windows had been broken by stones, the building entered and a "great deal of damage done to the interior. A considerable amount of merchandise was strewn all over the floor, Brown said.

Scales Smashed
He also reported that two counter scales in the store, which had been closed since June, were smashed.

The investigation disclosed that the damage had been done over a considerable period of time, Brown said.

Brown said that a company representative was expected to make an estimate of the damage some time today.

The investigation was conducted by Brown, Mayone, Undersheriff Clayton Vredenburg, and Deputies Charles McCullough and Michael Stuper.

Flu Closes 6 Schools In County

State Death Toll Now Put at 15

Four public schools in Ulster County and two parochial in the city were closed today by a high rate of absenteeism resulting from an increased number of Asian flu cases, a check by The Freeman disclosed at noon today.

The Associated Press in Albany said today that the death toll caused by complications resulting from Asian flu and similar respiratory illnesses in the state since last July stood at 15.

Dr. Dudley W. Hargrave, Ulster County Health Commissioner, reported at noon the following public schools were closed:

Two in City
East Kingston, Chambers School, Town of Ulster, Ontario Central School and Ellenville Central School.

St. Joseph's and Immaculate Conception Schools, both parochial, also were reported closed.

Dr. Hargrave said Ellenville closed Thursday and Friday last week because of the flu epidemic and absenteeism dropped off when the system reopened Monday, but he reported there were 600 cases of illness there yesterday.

Officials of the Rondout Valley Central School System, which includes schools in Cottekill, Accord, Kerhonkson, Rosendale and Marlinton, will postpone any decision on closing until Monday "to see the results of the weekend," he said.

Absenteeism Up
Absenteeism in the Rondout Valley System today was up to 29 per cent, Dr. Hargrave noted. Absenteeism in the Kingston public school system was up to 29.3 per cent, he said, and noted that some schools in the city "have been harder hit than others."

A spokesman for St. Joseph's School said it has been closed until further notice.

St. Mary's School reported that it had a good many absences (Continued on Page 7, Col. 4)

Queen Behind Schedule For Washington Whirl

WASHINGTON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II of Britain started a royal whirl around Washington today on a cultural note and eight minutes behind schedule.

The young British monarch was late—without explanation—for the first time in her North American visit as she left the White House for the National Gallery of Art.

She drove there through a steady morning rain to inspect a part of the collections of renowned paintings and sculptural pieces — including a special collection of the work of William Blake, a British painter, engraver and poet.

The Blake exhibition was arranged especially in honor of Her Majesty's visit and in memory of the 200th anniversary of Blake's birth.

Culture, Science Day
This was culture, benevolence and science day for the charming 31-year-old Queen and her husband, Prince Philip, on their state visit to this country, with a glittering event of high society glamor after noon.

It was a swift change of pace from their arrival day yesterday when the accent was on Anglo-American and free world unity.

While Elizabeth was at the art gallery Philip stayed at the White House and received from President Eisenhower a letter of welcome.

Attorney System Is Effective

Bi-Partisan Vote Approves Payment

District Attorney Howard C. St. John today reaffirmed his pledge of cooperation with a state probe of irregularities in the Kingston Police Department and said:

1) He would file a motion this afternoon with County Judge Louis G. Bruhn asking for a copy of the grand jury minutes of the departmental investigation as requested by State Commissioner of Investigations Arthur L. Reuter, and

2) An Albany newspaper report today that he (St. John) had been criticized by the State Department of Audit and Control for payment of counsel to represent him at cases tried throughout the county is a practice "maintained here for many years, facilitates justice, and the money is appropriated by the Board of Supervisors "which is bi-partisan."

Given With Limitations
Judge Bruhn yesterday granted, with limitations, an application by Corporation Counsel James J. Abernethy for inspection of the April grand jury minutes so far as they are applicable to the police department investigation.

Abernethy moved for an inspection of the minutes in order that the Board of Police Commissioners might determine whether there had been departmental regulation violation by officers who may have committed acts which violate police regulations but not of a severity that would result in indictable offenses.

In Line With Pledge
St. John said his motion to secure the grand jury minutes for Commissioner Reuter "are in keeping with pledge to extend my fullest cooperation to the commissioner's investigation of the police department."

Approval of Corporation Counsel Abernethy's application was granted with the following limitations:

1) No minutes involving police officers whose cases have not been disposed of are to be made available to the corporation counsel at this time.

2) Minutes involving other police officers are to be made available only to the corporation counsel for the purpose of investigation and preparation of a report to the police commissioner against whom departmental charges may be filed, and

3) Such minutes shall not be publicly disclosed nor used as evidence in any departmental trials unless further applications indicating a legitimate basis for such use be made to the court.

St. John's Answer
In answer to an Albany newspaper report that he had been criticized in a State Department of Audit and Control report, St. John said:

"The hiring of special counsel to assist the district attorney's office at cases in city and justice courts in a county with the geographical latitude of Ulster has been a practice for many years."

Kingston Hospital Accredited, Also TB, Benedictine

The Kingston Hospital was notified today that the Board of Commissioners of the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals had approved the recommendation that the hospital be accredited for a period of three years, or until a subsequent survey is conducted. This was the result of an evaluation of the hospital conducted on September 20, by a field representative of the Commission, according to Robert M. Schnitzer, administrator.

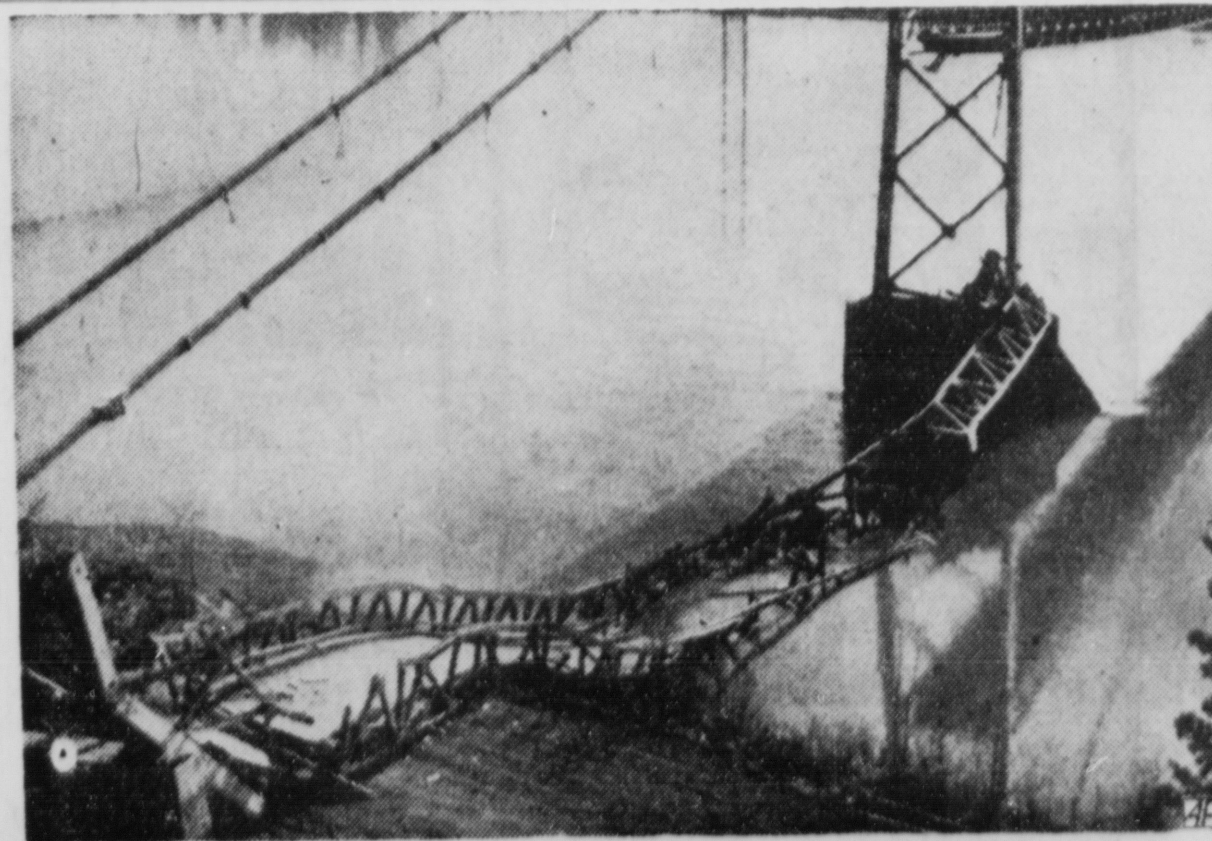

In advising the hospital of the Commission's action, Dr. Kenneth B. Babcock, director of the Joint Commission, commented, "The Commission wishes to commend the hospital for its excellent work."

U. S. Redoubles Efforts to Get 'Moon' Sightings

WASHINGTON (AP)—American officials are redoubling efforts to obtain visual sightings of the Russian space satellite. They said there have been few such sightings in the nearly two weeks Sputnik has been aloft.

Dr. Armand N. Spitz, coordinator of visual observation for the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory, indicated last night that U. S. scientists feel moonwatchers have been paying more attention to the satellite's carrier rocket than to the harder-to-see sphere itself.

Value With Satellite

"We must now universally impress on our volunteer observers that no matter how impressive the preliminary object—the rocket—is, our duty lies with the satellite from which we hope to gain most scientific information," Spitz said in Cambridge, Mass.

Spitz said moonwatch stations in the southern hemisphere—in South Africa, Australia, Chile, Peru and The Netherlands West Indies—have been alerted to concentrate on sightings of the baby moon. Observatory officials said the only satellite sightings reported from the southern hemisphere came from Australia. In all, Spitz said, there have been no more than 10 such actual sightings to date of the satellite, compared with hundreds of sightings of the rocket.

The rocket which carried Sputnik into orbit in outer space is itself circling the earth. Scientists say it is running more than 20 minutes ahead of the satellite in an orbit which carries it closer to earth.

Leon Campbell, director of the moonwatch project, told newsmen in Cambridge that three observers there reported yesterday seeing an object following the rocket by about 30 minutes. Campbell said these reported sightings have not been confirmed or identified.

Says Photo Taken

In South Pasadena, Calif., scientists manning a huge satellite tracking camera said yesterday they had seen Sputnik and had photographed it.

Meanwhile, the Moscow Radio said that Sputnik had circled the earth 190 times and had traveled 5,199,000 miles. Aviation Daily, an industry publication, came up yesterday with a second report that the Russians may be about to shoot a rocket to the moon. Another report along these lines came yesterday from Christian Clausen, science editor of the Los Angeles Examiner.

The story in Aviation Daily said certain informed sources expect the Soviets to try to send a rocket to the moon in connection with the Nov. 7 celebration of the 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

To Meet on Schools

ALBANY (AP)—State Comptroller Arthur Levitt says a conference with legislative leaders will be held to seek agreement on a bipartisan approach to problems of financing school construction.

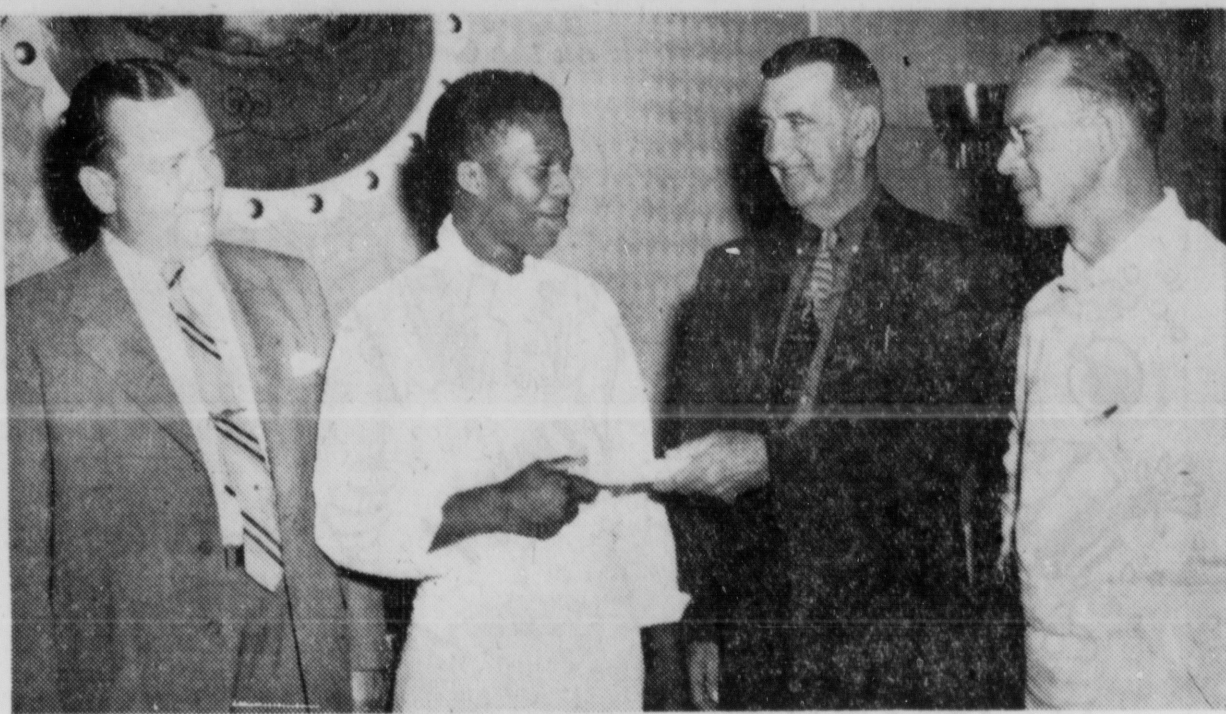

Levitt, a Democrat, announced yesterday that he had sent the leaders of the Legislature's Republican majority and Democratic minority invitations to an Albany conference.

He said he was awaiting word from the legislative leaders on a convenient date.

Queen's Critic on TV

NEW YORK (AP)—Malcolm Muggeridge, ex-editor of Punch, British humor magazine, and critic of Queen Elizabeth II, will appear tomorrow night on the Mike Wallace interview television show.

The program is scheduled for 10 p. m. on ABC-TV.

Chef's Graduation Puts Emphasis On State Training of Apprentices

Cleveland Jones Jr., of Kingston, who has been employed at Hoppe's on Wall Street for the past three years, has received his certificate of completion for the trade of chef.

In a brief ceremony Wednesday afternoon at the restaurant he was presented with the certificate by William J. Houghtaling, area apprentice training representative of the New York State Apprenticeship Council.

Jones, 26, is the son of Mrs. Lizzie Williams of 30 Tompkins Street.

A graduate of Providence, R. I., High School, he came to Kingston six years ago. He is also a veteran of the Korean Conflict.

Charles H. Hoppe, proprietor of the well-known restaurant which employs Jones, told The Freeman that Jones had joined the staff three years ago as a "kitchen man."

Couldn't Peel Potato
"He was given an opportunity to learn the business," Hoppe said, "and he had a fine chef, Kurt Lutjen."

Jones joined Hoppe's on April 4, 1955.

Lutjen said that "Rocky" (Jones' nickname) had "started from the bottom. He couldn't even peel a potato."

His culinary mentor explained to The Freeman that Jones had taken over the kitchen when Lutjen was on vacation recently.

"He's one of the best," Lutjen said, putting his arm around Jones' shoulder affectionately. "I back him 100 per cent."

"We're proud of him," said Hoppe.

Lutjen explained that in his progress toward the chef's certificate Jones had learned how to handle every phase of culinary art — butchery, pastry work, soups, roastings, sauces, fish, etc.

Trainers Praised

Houghtaling said letters of congratulation had been received by Hoppe and Jones from Thomas Holling, chairman of the New York State Apprenticeship Council. Houghtaling has just returned from a two-day training conference of the Council in Albany.

Anyone interested in enrolling for the apprenticeship training program can obtain full details from Houghtaling, who lives at 15 Hanratty Street. He keeps busy in the field during the day, checking on projects already set up, but is available by phone after 5 p. m.

State Industrial Commissioner Isadore Lubin, speaking at the opening of the conference, stressed the need for skilled workers, Houghtaling said.

Many Craftsmen Needed

Lubin pointed out that between now and 1965 16,000 new skilled craftsmen would be needed in the state each year just to replace those who retire or die. In addition, Lubin said the state would need 12,000 skilled craftsmen to take care of industrial growth—a total of 28,000 skilled craftsmen a year.

"The graduation of Jones is one example of what can be accomplished by training under a formalized training program," he said. "More young men will have to be trained if we are to meet the needs of industry in the years to come and while schools may provide a base for training the skilled worker, industry must do the training, and such training can best be developed through programs such as that of the Council."

SPUTNIK AND THE ARMS RACE

The Russians would be totally out of character if they did not attempt to gain maximum propaganda value from their success in probing outer space. They are crowing loudly, and showing no hint of humility in the face of the great natural forces involved.

The worst aspect of this is that the Kremlin obviously seeks to capitalize on its scientific triumph to bulldoze the free world into accepting its disarmament proposals.

Using "Sputnik" as a kind of club, the Russians want to frighten tremulous neutrals and even sturdy anti-Communist peoples into submission.

To combat this effort gives to the United States and its firm friends perhaps the most hazardous diplomatic task they have had since the close of World War II.

For what has dazzled the world is not only that the Soviet Union has catapulted into space a spinning object able to resist the pull of the earth. It is that by doing so they have revealed capabilities heretofore merely claimed or hinted at.

But we must not forget, and we must not allow our friends and the neutral nations to forget, that the United States has not—as a corollary of Russian success—lost its own capabilities.

We still have a huge and varied arsenal of atomic and hydrogen weapons and the ability to deliver these to the enemy. So long as we can put one hydrogen bomb over the Soviet Union, we have the capability to render another war an unbearable holocaust for the Russian people.

The evidence at this moment suggests that we are trailing Russia in the development of long-range guided missiles which could deliver nuclear warheads. But the race is not over. Just as the Soviet Union learned the secret of nuclear weapons after we had jumped into a huge lead, so we can redress the balance in the missile field.

Our great nuclear arsenal plus the prospect of success in the missile and satellite field should give us confidence, though plainly there no longer is room for smugness and complacency.

Neither we nor our friends should be panicked into submitting totally or one by one to Russia. War is just as unthinkable for both sides today as it was before "Sputnik" was launched.

So long as this is so, our resolve to hold out for peace with justice for the great bulk of mankind in the free world should not crumble.

We have no reason to yield in fear. Rather we should resist in the sure knowledge of our undiminished strength, and set about adding to it with all the resources at our command.

Most hunters seem willing to give the game a sporting chance. But, judging by those grim fall statistics, sometimes they don't extend the same privilege to fellow hunters.

NOW'S A GOOD TIME

Power firms and electrical contractors keep hammering away at the idea that home wiring, especially in older houses, should be checked by experts. When due allowances have been made for the vested interest such firms have in a check of this kind, the advantages of it still loom very large. It will pay off for any home owner in terms of convenience and safety.

It is a truism that old wiring and improper wiring can lead to fires. This becomes even more true when the wiring is burdened with a work load for which it was not intended. And that is the case in thousands of homes because of the great increase in the number of electrical appliances being used.

For that reason, a check of electrical wiring becomes imperative in households that have added a variety of appliances since the wiring was last inspected. Those

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
THE SILLY SEASON

The Sputnik has beyond doubt sputnikized many of us. We have become moon-struck which was an ancient term for those who were believed to be affected by the moon, so that they suddenly ceased to be completely themselves and acted curiously. It was supposed to happen to beasts as well as to man.

It is a pity when the sense of proportion is out of focus because of some new invention or discovery. For instance, when the first atom bomb was exploded, all the weather-vane speechmakers, commentators and writers began to use the phrase, "The Atomic Age," as though something that was so on a Thursday was no longer so on a Friday. Actually, in the lives of most of us, nothing happened. Those who loved, continued to love; women bore babies; some idiots sought to solve personality problems in the divorce courts, expecting the second to be different from the first only to discover that most are pretty much the same in the little things that are so important to little people. "The Atomic Age" has not changed the politics of the world; it is even impossible to attribute to it the paucity of first-rate talent everywhere on the earth, all of those who are governing now having been born before Hiroshima and none of them having, to anyone's knowledge, been diverted to reason by atomic rays.

Now I see that Dr. Abram L. Sachar, president of Brandeis University, blames the Sputnik on Joe McCarthy. That looks to me like a masterpiece of the illogical. Dr. Sachar's argument is that Joe drove brilliant scientists and best State Department career diplomats out of public service and therefore the Russians beat us to the Sputnik. Said Dr. Sachar:

"Because of this, we, the most powerful nation in the world, were defeated in the first stage of inter-space travel."

I wonder if Dr. Sachar listed the names of the great scientists and best diplomats that Joe drove from "active life," thus giving Soviet Russia, the advantage of superior brains. Joe McCarthy is dead and his sins, whatever they may be, have been judged by his Maker and it can matter little what Dr. Sachar says against him or I say for him.

But let us be reasonable: Joe held that Soviet Russia was employing American citizens in a conspiracy to infiltrate our government. The Rosenberg Case, the Canadian Spy Ring Case, the conviction of Klaus Fuchs and others in Great Britain, and numerous other cases, tried in the courts by judge and jury, have established that Soviet Russia employed espionage methods in the United States, particularly with regard to our scientific investigations.

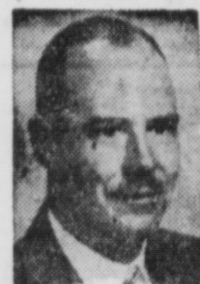

Would Dr. Sachar say that a scientist is free to be a spy any more than any other citizen is? Of course, not! He does not mean that at all. Then what does he mean? It is difficult to know exactly because actually Joe McCarthy's investigations have, on the whole, been substantiated by the course of events.

What Congress needs to know is why the Army, Navy and Air Force have rejected unification which Congress instructed these services to achieve. For Russia's success with the Sputnik is beyond doubt due to the costly and futile competition among these services which have wasted unreclaimable time arguing as to which branch is to be in charge of rockets and missiles, when actually it does not make the slightest difference so long as we get the job done. Call it Thor, Jupiter, Juno or Mary Jane—what difference does it really make?

It is surprising that President Eisenhower does not tell these admirals and generals to get off their rotundities and get on the job. The Russians have made them look like fools, and fools they have been quarrelling over priorities whereas they ought to be serving the United States.

Joe McCarthy, when he was alive, cried out against official idiots and the Sputnik shows that Joe, at any rate, had something to cry out about. Senator Stuard Symington has, with excessive gentleness, been complaining about brassy vacuity, if you know what I mean? The difference between Senator McCarthy and Senator Symington was that Joe was very impolite and the people heard him. He got a few results, not too many. To get real results, one must be even more impolite and impolite than Joe was.

Shingles Often Especially Serious for Older People

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

It is a little difficult to say whether shingles or herpes zoster should be classified as a disease of the nerves or a virus. Be that as it may, this strange disorder is caused by a virus and does involve the nerves. Or perhaps one should say the nerves of feeling or sensation.

In a review of herpes zoster published in a leading medical journal 206 cases were analyzed. Among the 32 patients under the age of 20 with shingles the condition cleared up in 30 in 14 days or less. In four elderly patients the symptoms lasted six months or longer.

The first sign of the disease is usually a pain or burning sensation which is confined to some part of the body and to one side only. Why it should be one-sided is still not known.

It is particularly common around the chest, the hips, the abdomen and the face. It is particularly serious when the eyes become involved.

In the review just mentioned, involvement of the eye did not occur in patients under the age of 20. It appeared to become more common in more or less direct relationship to age.

HERPES MAY come on immediately after an acute infection like pneumonia or meningitis. Sometimes it develops without obvious cause and sometimes comes in epidemics.

One of the curious features of shingles is its relationship to chicken pox. The virus particles of chicken pox and herpes zoster cannot be told apart by their physical appearance. Furthermore, there have been many reports of chicken pox occurring in people who came in contact with victims of shingles. Occasionally the opposite has been observed.

MANY DIFFERENT kinds of treatment have been used for shingles. Soothing lotions or other preparations help a little. X-rays have been used with variable success. Antibiotics also may have some value. Anything which improves the general health is considered valuable. However, so far there is no single specific remedy.

In elderly people or those weakened by illness, herpes is often a particularly serious thing because it hangs on so long. The persistent pain is called postherpetic neuralgia.

WHEN NOTHING else seems to work, cutting the nerve by surgery or other procedures on the nerves may have to be considered. Older people with nerve pain following shingles deserve the utmost sympathy. A study suggests progress in preventing postherpetic neuralgia may be made by more strenuous efforts to reduce the severity of acute attacks.

appliances cannot work at top efficiency if the wiring is not adequate. More important, such an overload sharply increases the fire hazard.

Now, before winter throws an even heavier burden on home electrical systems, is a good time to have the job done.

A Little Rough on the Groceries

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The United States will watch with more than usual interest Guatemala's presidential election on Oct. 20.

For this will be a test on how a small country can shake off a Communist dictatorship and survive, even after an anti-Communist president has been assassinated.

The mere fact that the election is being held is taken here as a sign of growing democratic strength.

President Carlos Castillo Armas was assassinated Aug. 27. The Guatemalan constitution provides for a special election within four months after the death of a president. It is being held within three months.

At any time after the president was killed, the minister of defense, Col. Juan Francisco Oliva, might have taken over as dictator. Instead, he lifted the state of siege within a month. Then he announced he would honor the constitutional ban against military commanders running for the presidency unless they resign their command six months before an election.

This was an unprecedented action in Latin-American politics. There is only praise for Colonel Oliva for saving Guatemalan democracy.

ANOTHER PRECEDENT was broken when the former Vice-President Luis Arturo Gonzalez Lopez, who had succeeded Castillo Armas, announced that he would not be a candidate for president. This is the first time within memory that a Latin-American president has chosen not to run for another term, if he could.

The result is that there are now three right-wing candidates running for the presidency in what the minister of defense has guaranteed will be an open election.

Miguel Ortiz Passarelli, 49, resigned as chief justice of the Supreme Court to run for the presidency. He has the backing of the existing administration and of the National Democratic Movement, which holds 59 of the 66 seats in Parliament.

Gen. Miguel Idigoras Fuentes, 61, former ambassador to Colombia, is the candidate of an extreme right wing group which formerly supported Castillo Armas but has now broken with the administration.

The third candidate, Dr. Miguel Asturias Quinones, 60, a professor, has been put forward by the Catholic Democratic party. It holds only five seats in Parliament and admits it has little chance of winning.

The United Anti-Communist party, which holds two seats in Parliament, has no presidential candidate.

ALL COMMUNIST and left-wing parties supporting the old Arvalo and Arbenz governments have been disbanded. Their leaders offer no threat to the Guatemalan people who, once burned by their brand of liberalism, aren't likely to be burned again. But the holding of democratic elections will by no means solve all of Guatemala's problems. Over half of its three and a half million people are Indians of great poverty and illiteracy. Anyone offering them a panacea is apt to be listened to.

The government is trying to create a monetary economy when many of its people still don't have and don't use money. It is trying to create a rural middle class by agrarian reform.

It claims that unemployment of the Red regimes has been licked. The country is no longer just a banana republic. United Fruit is back and welcome, but it does not dominate either the government or the economy. Coffee, corn and cotton are now larger exports than bananas. Business is diversifying.

THE COUNTRY has been opened to oil exploration, with about 30 wildcaters operating. They include Shell, Jersey Standard and a number of Texas independents.

Any lease-holder can explore a million acres. If he finds oil he must give half of his holdings back to the government and split profits 50-50. The idea is to avoid monopolies.

With nearly 90 million dollars' worth of U. S. and World Bank credit available, Guatemala is wisely not drawing on its loan too rapidly. It wants to avoid inflation.

But the government's most terrible problem is to steer a middle and moderate course. If it moves too slow, it is accused by the left of not doing anything. If it moves too fast, it is accused by the right of going Communist again.

Syria and Satellite Seen Distracting to Queen's Visit

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — "The boast of heraldry, the pomp of power... awaits alike the inevitable hour"—these lines of Thomas Gray in his famous elegy come to mind as the nation's capital welcomes the Queen of the British Commonwealth. For, however much the ceremonies and celebrations here are a dramatic tribute to the steadfastness of Anglo-American relations, the fact remains that these are symbols of yesterday's world.

It is the world of today and tomorrow that gives concern to an anxious America and an anxious Britain.

Even as the Queen was saluting the colonial heritage of our country at Jamestown, Va., the Secretary of State of the United States was issuing a warning to the rulers of the Soviet Union that, if Turkey is attacked, there will be retaliation by American military forces.

A Similar Situation

Mr. Dulles likened the situation to the period just before the Korean War broke out in 1950. But just before that event there were no such warnings. Instead there was an ill-advised declaration that America considered Korea as outside the "defense perimeter" of the United States. Maybe the stern words of Secretary Dulles are necessary to prevent a local war into which the rest of the world subsequently might be drawn. Maybe the cynical attitude of some observers here that Mr. Dulles is bluffing and is engaging in a game of what they call "Brinkmanship" can encourage miscalculation by Moscow, just as the Nazis miscalculated when they assumed in 1939 that America would never enter the war. Maybe also the Soviet Union is just bold enough to follow up the recent dispatch of Egyptian troops to Syria with a maneuver which will turn the Arab world against Israel and start a fresh blaze in the Middle East.

Disturbing Realism

This is the realism that confronts the world as the Queen's visit affords a good opportunity to cement America's relations with Britain, which were impaired during the Suez crisis of a year ago. But in the background is another psychological force of tremendous proportions. It is the force of Russia's spectacular stunt in releasing a "satellite" that goes spinning around the earth. The reaction in America has been one of hurt pride at being beaten and also of grave fear of the portent of the Russian feat.

The hurt pride may be assuaged in the coming months as American scientists launch a satellite of their own. But the fear of the Soviet rulers and what they may capriciously do to disturb world peace will reassure Secretary Dulles showed himself to be very courageous when he lashed out at the Soviet rulers in his press conference Wednesday. Declaring that they quibble and equivocate and do not keep their agreements, he doubted that anything might be accomplished by more meetings "at the summit" or between Marshal Zhukov and President Eisenhower. He seemed to discourage any idea that some constructive work could come out of disarmament talks or from such four-hour conferences as he had with Foreign Minister Gromyko last Saturday.

Tax Cut Not Likely

It's a bleak prospect for tomorrow's world—a continuance of the tension that has prevailed for several years and a virtual certainty now that tax reduction for the American taxpayer will be abandoned as more and more billions have to be spent for armament.

For the United States has not been bluffed into submission and surrender, though, to be sure, since the "Sputnik" episode, it is discouraging to note that the cries for "peaceful co-existence" seem to be finding more favor with certain sections of American opinion which have always wanted to do business with the Communists.

The cold truth is that the world has cause for anxiety and worry. The Queen's visit is helpful because it brings two friendly peoples closer together. But it is the alliance and combination of the technical, the scientific, the military and the moral forces of the entire free world which now must be consummated if an effective "balance of power" to keep the peace is to be achieved.

Statesmanship—which doesn't mean narrow partisanship in foreign affairs such as so many of the self-styled spokesmen on the Democratic side are exhibiting—is an acute need. Maybe it is a time for a coalition conference of the sensible leaders of both parties to be summoned by the President to take the missile controversy out of politics and to forge inside America a new unity in international affairs. That's a pressing requirement for survival in tomorrow's world. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

Amendment No. 1 Asks $250 Million

Yes Vote Would Expand Higher Education Plan

Today's election feature deals with Proposition No. 1, which would authorize expenditure by the state of up to two hundred fifty million dollars on expansion and improvement of facilities for higher education.

It is one of six propositions to be presented to voters Election Day, Tuesday, Nov. 5, on voting machines, calling for a "yes" or "no" decision.

To Inform Voters

The Freeman, knowing that a well-informed electorate can help bring good government, is presenting the full text of the proposed amendments in a series on consecutive days. This gives an opportunity for full study before going to the polls.

And, everybody is urged to vote. It is a sacred privilege, in fact a duty, for every freedom-loving American.

Yesterday, Question No. 1 was printed, asking "Shall there be a convention to revise the State Constitution and amend the same?" It is proposed to hold the convention in 1959. Tomorrow's feature deals with amending the constitution on housing loans.

Proposition No. 1, the full text of which follows, would expand and improve the higher education system within the state university, and permit the state to pay a share of the capital costs of locally sponsored institutions regularly by the university trustees.

Amendment No. 1
Section 1, Resolved (if the Assembly concur). That article seven of the constitution be amended by adding thereto a new section, to be section nineteen, to read as follows:

19. The legislature may authorize by law the creation of a debt or debts of the state, not exceeding in the aggregate two hundred fifty million dollars, to provide moneys for the construction, reconstruction, rehabilitation, improvement and equipment of facilities for the expansion and development of the program of higher education provided and to be provided at institutions now or hereafter comprised within the state university, for acquisition of real property therefor, and for payment of the state's share of the capital costs of locally-sponsored institutions of higher education approved and regulated by the state university trustees.

The provisions of this article, not inconsistent with this section, relating to the issuance of bonds for a debt or debts of the state and the maturity and payment thereof, shall apply to a state debt or debts created pursuant to this section; except that the law authorizing the contracting of such debt or debts shall take effect without submission to the people pursuant to section eleven of this article.

2. Resolved (if the Assembly concur). That the foregoing Amendment be submitted to the people for approval at the general election to be held in the year nineteen hundred fifty-seven, in accordance with the provisions of the election law.

So They Say..

BUFAFLO —The Transcontinental Television Corp. says it plans to acquire control of two ultra-high frequency television stations in eastern Pennsylvania that would be merged into one.

The two stations to be merged subject to approval by the Federal Communications Commission, are WARM-TV in Scranton, Pa., and WILK-TV in Wilkes-Barre, 15 miles away.

Transcontinental said yesterday that it would control 60 per cent of the combined station. Local interests would have 40 per cent.

Transcontinental owns WGR and WGR-TV in Buffalo, WROC-TV in Rochester, and, with Hamilton Shea, WWSA-TV in Harrisburg, Va.

Cullum Funeral Largely Attended

The funeral of Robert C. Cullum, of 33 Emerson Street, former Republican alderman of the 12th ward and well known city sports figure, who died Monday, was held Thursday at 9 a. m. from the James M. Murphy Funeral Home, 176 Broadway.

A high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul at 9:30 a. m. at St. Joseph's Church by the Rev. Alfred P. Glancy.

Seated in the sanctuary were the Rev. Austin V. Carey and the Rev. Robert D. Saccoman.

Church Is Filled
The church was filled with relatives and friends attending the Mass. Responses to the Mass were sung by the Children's Choir accompanied by Mrs. Frank Rafferty, organist.

During the bereavement hundreds of friends visited the funeral home. Among the clergy who called were the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Stephen P. Connelly, PR; the Rev. Austin V. Carey, the Rev. Francis X. Toner, the Rev. William V. Reynolds and Father Saccoman.

Groups visiting the funeral home Wednesday evening included the Common Council of the city, led by Alderman-at-large John J. Schwenk; Old Timers Baseball Association; Joseph Hoffman, president; A. H. Wicks Engine and Truck Co., Inc. No. 4, C. John Bechtold, president. The fire company ritual was recited by Mayor Frederick H. Stang.

Many Groups Attend
Other organizations included St. Joseph's Holy Name Society and Kingston Council No. 275, Knights of Columbus, led respectively by Edward D. Gardner, president, and Florian P. Wingert, grand knight. The Holy Name and K of C joined in the recitation of the Rosary led by the Rev. James V. Keating, accompanied by Father Glancy.

Also paying their respects were Kingston Kiwanis Club members, led by their president, H. Van Wyck Darrow, and Insurance Agents International Union, Local 93, James Rapp, president.

Scores of spiritual and floral bouquets were received. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery where Father Glancy gave the final absolution and blessing assisted by Father Saccoman.

Bearers were James A. Rapp, Robert Ross, Edwin Callahan, Joseph Cavano, Louis Barone and Robert Steuding, all former insurance company associates of Mr. Cullum.

St. John Asks
such counsel is appropriated by the Board of Supervisors, which is bi-partisan.

Amounts Published
"Payments to these counsel are published yearly and are a matter of record in the county supervisor's proceedings which are distributed throughout the county."

"Until early in 1956 we had only one full-time assistant in this office. (The office now has two, Attorneys John Larkin and Joseph Torracca).

"It is much easier to facilitate justice when, as an example, on one night you might have cases in Ellenville, Marlboro, Saugerties and Shandaken. A man can only be in so many places at one time."

"Orange County, of comparable size, has four assistant district attorneys. It may be noted that the taxpayers in this county are saved the salaries of two extra men."

Men of Reputation
"This is a matter which arises at every election time, but it is interesting to note that a check of the supervisors' minutes discloses that since 1929 the following counsel represented the district attorney's office in cases:

"J. Edwards Conway, Roger H. Loughran, Lloyd E. LeFevre, Arthur B. Ewig and Thomas J. Plunkett, both Democrats, Charles Gaffney, Bernard Feeney Jr., James Connelly, Charles Kaiser, John J. Schick and many others."

"I am sure that these men are all of very good reputation and would not, or have not been associated with any practice by this office which they felt wrong."

No Report Sent DA
St. John said he had never received a copy of the report "and had no reason to."

The district attorney said he also was motivated by the Albany newspaper in reference to petitions requesting a probe of Ulster County and another asking a state investigation of the police department.

The Albany newspaper said St. John had told a reporter that the petition he understood, had been signed by many representatives of both parties.

"I have not seen the petitions and therefore I wouldn't have any idea who signed them," St. John said.

Republican leaders charged yesterday that the petitions for the Reuter probe are political in nature.

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, GOP county chairman, and N. LeVan Haver, city chairman, said, in a joint statement, that the bids for investigations "are so politically tainted that they should not be dignified by serious comment."

HIGHWAY SUPERINTENDENTS DINNER

The quarterly dinner of the Town Highway Superintendents Association of Ulster County was held Thursday night at the Capri Restaurant, Port Ewen. Principals were: (l-r) State Senator E. Ogden Bush of Walton; George Clark, president of the Delaware County Association of Town Superintendents; George Fichtner, president of the Ulster County group and Basil E. Bradner, town superintendent of the Town of Harrison, Westchester County, guest speaker. He is a past president of the New York State Association. (Freeman photo).

Town Highway Superintendents Hear Speaker
Basil E. Bradner, town superintendent of the Town of Harrison, Westchester County, was the speaker last evening at the quarterly meeting of the Ulster County Town Highway Superintendents Association held at the Capri restaurant, Port Ewen.

He stressed the importance of the organization in the maintenance of home rule.

65 Present
There were 65 members of the association present when President George Fichtner called the meeting to order. Among those introduced were State Senator E. Ogden Bush of Walton; Malcolm MacPherson of Delhi, county superintendent of highways of Delaware County and George Clark, president of the Delaware County Association of Town Superintendents.

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson sent a telegram of regret, he being detained for business reasons. Ulster County Superintendent of Highways Roland H. Green was also present.

Broadway Won't Forget Party by Todd in Garden
NEW YORK (AP) — Mike Todd, party giver extraordinaire, took a boat ride today to explain what happened last night.

His ballyhooed "Intimate" gathering for 18,000 chums, he admits, ran into a few "unforeseen difficulties."

The show, televised in part to a nationwide audience, was a hodgepodge of blaring bands, prancing ponies, deadspots and flying frankfurters that Broadway won't soon forget.

"We've been had," commented one veteran showman as the guests, a glitter cross-section of the entertainment world and cafe society, moved through the exits of Madison Square Garden.

Many left soon after the formal program ended at 11 p. m., but other thousands of the restless, fidgety throng lingered to dance and partake of a strange buffet of pizza pies, doughnuts, ice cream, beer, champagne and hot dogs.

Todd, a showman who leaves little to chance, set up his explanatory boat ride today.

Invited along for an excursion steamer outing up the Hudson River this afternoon was a cross-section of the writers and editors who sat in on the grim garden doings.

The celebration was a first anniversary tribute to "Around the World in 80 Days," the first picture showman Todd ever made and which won five Hollywood Oscars.

State CWV Board To Meet in City
St. Ignatius Loyola Post 1769 in the midst of a membership drive today announced that the Department of New York, Catholic War Veterans, would hold a board meeting here Saturday at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Commander William F. Edelmuth of the local post, and former mayor of the city, said delegates would be here from various sections of the state to attend the session presided over by Department Commander Charles F. Shelley.

St. Ignatius Loyola representatives will be Rogers F. Murphy, a past commander and present state vice commander; Commander Edelmuth, James Howard, first vice commander; Robert Lammon, second vice commander, and Edward Cunningham, third vice commander.

Saturday evening the local post will give a dinner in honor of the department board. Sunday at 8 p. m. there will be Rosary and Benediction at St. Mary's Church. Induction of new members will be held at 4 p. m. at the Knights of Columbus building, and new officers will be installed. A buffet supper and dancing will follow, music by Johnny Knapp's orchestra.

The membership drive aims at an increase of 100 per cent.

probe, and another, requesting a police department investigation, originated in the city.

St. John Mayor Frederick H. Stang and Police Chief Raymond Van Buren all have pledged "complete" cooperation with any probes by state investigators.

Must Pool

only thing to do is to put it together.

"Our scientists must work together. NATO should not be thought of merely as a military alliance. NATO is a way of grouping ability—of our manhood, our resources, of our industries and our factories."

Eisenhower said the total assets of the free world are far greater "than those of our potential enemy," but he added "we are too much separated by things that concern us locally."

Presumably the President's proposal would lead eventually to a request by him for modifications in the law barring the disclosure of much basic atomic weapons information to Britain or any other country.

The British government has long sought re-establishment of its World War II partnership with the United States and Canada which produced the first atomic bomb in 1945.

More immediately, however, the Eisenhower proposition, which follows a long series of meetings with his science advisers and other officials over the past two weeks, is evidently designed to deal with the challenge of Russia's intercontinental missile and its launching of history's first man-made earth satellite.

The information as to Eisenhower's plan came to light just ahead of today's conference between Secretary of State Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd. The aim of that talk obviously was to plan the ground for next week's top-level Eisenhower-Macmillan meetings.

The top-level two-power session was announced yesterday in Washington and London with plain indication that other Allied talks may follow for both Eisenhower and Macmillan.

The nature of the formal announcements suggested that Macmillan had taken the initiative in seeking the meeting. There was some unofficial word that he had advised Eisenhower some time ago that he would like to talk with him.

Queen Approves Talks
The White House said, however, that detailed arrangements were completed only yesterday, and the announcement was held up until plans were approved by Queen Elizabeth. She gave her formal approval shortly after arriving yesterday for a four-day state visit.

Lloyd, who is here as a minister in attendance at the Queen, will stay over to take part along with Dulles in the Eisenhower-Macmillan conference. Macmillan will fly here overnight Tuesday. The conference will continue through Friday.

UN Meets
yesterday, said that Turkish troop movements are "purely internal affairs," denied Turkish planes or troops took part in recent border incidents and reiterated that Syria "is subject to no threat whatsoever."

Officials Doubt Attack
Turkey suggested the border incidents actually involved "contraband (smuggling) or similar actions which might from time to time occur," and said there was a normal procedure to settle these.

High Syrian officials privately expressed a belief the 500,000-man Turkish army would not attack. They said talk of an attack by the 50,000-man Syrian force was almost laughable.

Arabian King Saud, on a state visit to Lebanon, discussed the crisis by telephone with Syrian President Shukri Kuwaty and then conferred with President Camille Chamoun of Lebanon.

Another top-level conference on the threat in the Middle East got under way in Tehran, where King Faisal of Iraq arrived today for a 10-day state visit with Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi of Iran. Both Iran and Iraq are members of the western-aligned Baghdad Pact and as such have been targets of Syrian and Russian condemnation.

Shakeup Is Likely Of UTW Leadership
WASHINGTON (AP) — A shakeup in the leadership, of the 40,000-member United Textile Workers Union was reported likely today in a move designed to avoid possible AFL-CIO ouster on corruption charges.

Asked in advance of a union executive board meeting today if a change in union leadership was impending, UTW President Anthony Valente said "It's up to the board."

President Valente and Secretary Treasurer Lloyd Klenert, along with UTW southern director Joe

GI Linked With Red Spy Ring by Film at Trial

NEW YORK (AP)—Microfilm introduced as evidence in the trial of Rudolf I. Abel contains a Russian claim they recruited for espionage work an American Army sergeant—still on active duty—while he was stationed with the U. S. Embassy in Moscow.

A message on the microfilm, assertedly found in a hollowed-out bolt, was read to the jury yesterday in Brooklyn federal court where Abel, 55, is on trial for spying for the Soviet Union.

Named in the message was Sgt. Roy A. Rhodes, 40, who has been stationed at Fort Myer, Va.

Off Until Monday
Rhodes is on the list of government witnesses. Asst. U. S. Atty. Gen. William F. Tompkins, asked about Rhodes' role in the case, said:

"When he takes the stand next week you'll find out more about it."

The trial has been adjourned until Monday.

At Rhodes' home in Eatontown, N. J., today his wife termed evidence linking her husband with Soviet espionage as "just a big lie."

Mrs. Rhodes said she had lived with Rhodes in Moscow when he was attached to the embassy, adding: "It's the biggest frameup I've ever seen. I don't know how they ever did it but it must be serving some purpose."

The microfilm message said Rhodes had lived in Red Bank, N. J., and owned three garages there. Said Mrs. Rhodes:

Married 17 Years
"We have never lived in Red Bank. And if we had three garages, I wouldn't be working all the time." She declined to say where she worked.

She said she and Rhodes have been married for 17 years and have an 8-year-old daughter. He has been in the Army for 15 years.

The FBI said the bolt containing the microfilm message was found last May 12 in a box containing loose nuts, bolts and screws at the home of Reino Hayhanen in Peekskill, N. Y.

Hayhanen, 37, confessed Soviet spy, defected to the west last May. He has been the government's star witness in the trial of Abel, whom he claims was his espionage boss in this country.

Still Reported Missing
Mrs. Albert Blessmann, of 190 Clinton Avenue, notified police at 8:50 a. m. today, that her husband had not come home yesterday, and he was reported still missing this afternoon. He was described as being 63 years old, five feet, two inches tall, weighing 128 pounds. He has gray hair and wore a blue suit with brown hat and brown shoes.

The European viper is the only poisonous snake in Great Britain, where it often is called adder.

Jacobs, have been under fire of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

In summer hearings the committee heard testimony that Klenert and Valente used union funds to finance purchase of expensive homes for themselves in Washington suburbs. Both denied the committee's charges that their use of the funds was improper. They said all borrowed money had been repaid.

Although the UTW is a small union, what happens to it is important to the textile industry.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—Meet the new Sid Caesar.

The comedian who returns with his old partner, Imogene Coca, to a regular night-time show on ABC-TV in January, is quite a different person today from the harried, exhausted performer who bowed off NBC-TV at the end of last season.

Humor Changes
And his humor has changed too,
he says.

"I'm not going to kid people.
My humor has changed. I think, to kidding myself some too—to showing people that they're not alone. I want to show that whatever human foibles I hold up to ridicule are my foibles too. It's something that evolves from maturity."

A new maturity could be one way of describing Caesar's thought and manner. But in physical appearance he literally looks years younger than he did a few months ago. He's lost 25 pounds.
His face is unwrinkled and shadow-less. You'd call him one of the healthiest-looking men in New York.

"I feel better and I think sharper since I took off that weight," Caesar said. "I'm 35 and the doctor said I should weigh what I did when I was 21. I weighed 190 then.
Today I weigh 191½ — and that pound and a half is coming off."

Protein Diet Did It
A protein diet accomplished it, he said.

"And going without lunch quite often. A lot of people would feel better if they went without lunch.
I eat a big breakfast—a steak or chops or a can of tuna of salmon.
No eggs. There's fat in eggs. And a big glass of fruit juice. No sweets. No starch. A lot of tomatoes. I like tomatoes at every meal."

Perhaps even more significant than the diet is the fact that Caesar, long a man without a hobby, has discovered an intellectual passion: Civil War history. His Long Island home is strewn with military histories which he reads at all hours from breakfast to bed time.

A man deeply interested in the Civil War who dropped in to talk with Caesar about his television plans discovered that both Caesar and he would rather discuss Civil War history.

Alarms Associate
Vicksburg, Chancellorsville, Shiloh (Caesar held his head). "Oh, that Shiloh! There was Grant in a boat out on the river. . ."; Gettysburg (Caesar: "I'll bet you don't remember the name of the first Union general killed at Gettysburg. . .").

An associate of the comedian's began to look alarmed as Caesar and his visitor swapped information and opinions. The associate's expression plainly asked: "What's this? Why don't they talk about TV?"

No Format Yet
He shook his head and said:
"I had to come back. At 35, I don't care how much money
you've got, you can't just say,
"Well, let's see, today I'll take the boat out in the bay." At least I can't do that. I've got too many ideas. I've been given the chance to express them on ABC-TV and I look forward to it."

"I'm glad to be coming back with Imogene. She's a small person in size, but she's 10 times as big as her size in being a great performer. No, there's no format worked out yet. We're just coming back."

And coming back, he might have added, a happier, calmer, healthier man than when he left.

Freedom Fighters
Day Set Oct. 23

ALBANY (AP)—Next Wednesday will be "Freedom Fighters Day" in New York State in commemoration of the first anniversary of the Hungarian revolt, which was crushed by Soviet troops.

Gov. Harriman yesterday proclaimed the day and urged that church bells be rung at noon to honor the dead and to "herald the glad tidings that love of freedom and independence never dies in the hearts of men."

Harriman also called on New Yorkers to observe a moment of silent prayer at noon for the Hungarian people.

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Is there anything Cecil Beaton can't do?
"Yes," replied the British jack-of-all-arts. "I can't read a photographer's light meter and I can't ride a bicycle."

The latter frustrates him, but the former seems to bother him not at all. Light meter or no, he is one of the world's most noted photographers and official lens-man for the British royal family.

He also has written numerous books. He has designed sets and costumes for many Broadway shows and two British movies. He is now supervising all the visual aspects of MGM's "Gigi," with Leslie Caron, Maurice Chevalier and Louis Jourdan. It's his first Hollywood job and he's having a ball.

Enjoys It All
"I am responsible for everything that appears on the screen, as far as design goes," he explained. "I sketch the costumes, the sets, the colors and the studio departments supply the details from my sketches—very efficiently, I might add.
Oh, yes, I am taking photographs, too. It gives me something to do during the long waits on the set.
"I must say that I've enjoyed it all immensely."

Beaton was something of a designer himself—a tall, mature man with a planter's hat, striped shirt, coat and scarf and Ivy League lightweight trousers. He spoke willingly of his most notable function — photographing England's royalty.

"First of all, they find out if I'm in England at the time," he remarked. "If so, I'll receive a call saying I should be at the palace next Thursday or whatever.
"So I go out with my equipment.
It's just for some informal shots
I'll take only my small camera.
But if the Queen or princess is going on a state tour and needs formal portraits in full regalia, then it becomes a big production.
I bring along a great number of lights and electricians."

Are the royal figures good subjects?

Photos Part of Job
"Definitely so. They know that photographs are a part of their job and are patient and willing to pose until I get what is needed."
He does the work largely for the honor, he indicated. He receives no pay for the sittings. "Of course I am paid if the Queen should need 100 photographs to be put in silver frames and presented on a tour," he said.

In England, he receives a royalty on each photo when printed.
But in the United States, he gets only a flat fee for use of the negative. All photos must be made available to all comers; he's not allowed to hold out an exclusive for a certain magazine.

For each sitting he shoots about 200 negatives, from which a handful of poses are selected.
About the light meter—"I bring along someone who can read it for me."

But he still can't ride the bicycle, and it disturbs him greatly.

N. Y. Auto Group Official Favors '59 Convention

ALBANY (AP)—An officer of the State Automobile Assn. is backing the proposed 1959 convention to revise the state Constitution.

Oscar J. Brown of Syracuse, chairman of the group's constitutional convention committee, yesterday urged motorists to vote yes on the convention question, which goes before the voters of the state Nov. 5.

At such a convention, Brown said, the automobile group would urge delegates to include a provision earmarking for road purposes all revenue from highway-use taxes.

He declared that such a provision would make it certain that enough state funds and federal aid would be available to build "the safest and most advanced highway system that science can build."

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One out of five of the 95,000 persons killed in accidents in America in 1956, it is estimated, was accident-prone.

"Accident-proneness is a disease... a psychosomatic manifestation of a disease process," said Dr. John Henderson.

Dr. Henderson, medical director of Johnson & Johnson, New Brunswick, N. J., is one of a growing number of experts in the field who feel that the nation's high accident rate cannot be effectively lowered until it is realized that accident-proneness is an ailment, just as are alcoholism and heart attacks, and proper treatment is employed.

Costly Toll

The accident toll last year, beside 95,000 dead, included 9,500,000 injured, of whom 350,000 suffered permanent physical impairment. The National Safety Council estimated the cost at $11,200,000,000 in property damage and time lost from work.

As the result of careful studies scientists now feel they can often detect by psychological tests the accident-prone person, who is usually either maladjusted emotionally or immature in judgment, or both.

"Accident-proneness is partly a matter of age," said Dr. Henderson. "It is not altogether an accident that the leading cause of death from the age of one to about 25 is—accidents. This is the period of greatest rebellion, repression and emotional conflict."

"After 30 the tendency to have accidents begins to fall off. But there is much truth in an old adage of the insurance business—after three accidents luck is no longer the major factor in the picture."

Accident Prone

Are you accident-prone yourself? You may be, according to Dr. Henderson, if—

1. You are fundamentally resentful against anyone or anything in life, carry a deep personal sense of guilt, or brood about your problems while you are at work or behind the wheel of a car.

2. You haven't won the acclaim you feel you deserve in an important field, and you drive fast and dangerously merely to call attention to yourself.

3. You become flustered in any emergency, and react emotionally—instead of with mature and immediate judgment.

"The ability to recognize these feelings of resentment and guilt is the key to gaining maturity," said Dr. Henderson. "Otherwise, they are polite ways of self-murder, leading the individual unconsciously to destroy himself."

Could Avoid Many

"I believe that at least half the accidents in industry and the home and on the highways could be avoided. But this required two things—the ability of accident-prone individuals to have insight into their personality problems and face up to the task of becoming well-adjusted; the detection by psychologists of accident-prone persons who are a menace to both themselves and others on the highway or in many industrial jobs."

But is it possible for an accident-prone person ever really to become safe? "Yes, very definitely," said Dr. Henderson. "He should talk out his problem with friends, his minister, his physician. Once he recognizes his problem, and adjusts to it, he can become a safe person."

But he does have to face his problem—and conquer it by growing up.

Reports on Spending

ALBANY (AP)—The 7,538 local governments in New York State spent $4,082,000,000 last year, of which more than a third went for education.

State Comptroller Arthur Levitt provided the figures yesterday in his annual report on municipal affairs. The localities collected about $3,278,000,000.

The expenditures, which excluded debt service, included $2,758,000,000 for current operations and $748,000,000 for capital construction.

State Highway Deaths Over '56

ALBANY (AP)—The death rate on New York's highways is running higher than last year, with "high-fatality" months still to come, the motor vehicle commissioner reports.

The toll for the first nine months of this year was 1,549, or 30 more than in the like period of 1956, Commissioner Joseph P. Kelly said yesterday.

In September, 200 deaths were reported, of which 84 per cent were caused by violations of traffic laws, Kelly reported. Last year's September total was 201.

Chaplain Speaker For 1st Baptist Couples Saturday

MAJOR W. M. LEWIS

The First Baptist Church, Albany Avenue at Broadway, will recognize another phase in its expanding ministry and program Saturday night with the initial meeting of a new Couples Club.

He will speak to the club on the role and ministry of a chaplain in the armed forces and will show colored pictures of his recent assignment at Thule Air Force Base, Greenland.

Recalled in 1950
Chaplain Lewis has been on active duty since October 1950 when he was recalled from the Emmanuel Baptist Church of Batavia.

A graduate of Colgate University and Northern Baptist Theological Seminary, Chicago, Ill., Chaplain Lewis was on duty during World War 2 with the First Troop Carrier Command. His current tour of duty has taken him to Korea in 1951 and to Greenland in 1956.

His present assignment to Stewart Field came upon his return from Greenland.

Hadassah Women to Attend Dinner on Monday; Campaign for Members Starts

More than 200 women are expected to break bread together at Hadassah's annual membership supper scheduled for Monday at 7 p. m. at Congregation Agudas Achim's social hall.

The supper, which will be prepared by a Hadassah committee of 15 volunteers, will be followed by a musical comedy sketch. According to Mrs. Melvin Navy, program chairman, "this skit promises to be hilarious." Also on the agenda are short installation ceremonies for new members and a welcoming address by Mrs. Murray Fletcher, president.

"We hope to greet about 50 new members at this, our first general get-together of the year," Mrs. Fletcher told The Freeman. Last year the organization totaled more than 300 members.

Starring in the show are Mrs. Stanley London, Mrs. Charles Ronder, Mrs. Walter Suskind, Mrs. Cecil Murkoff, Mrs. Irving H. Kreppel, Mrs. Marvin Baron, Mrs. Melvin Navy and Mrs. Seymour Werbalowsky. Music is under the direction of Julian Lore, Cantor of Temple Emanuel.

Mrs. Nathaniel B. Gross, who has ably accepted the post in years past, will again head the supper committee. Her assistants include the Mmes. Harry Friedman, Benjamin Suskind, Ida Werbalowsky, Morris Berman, Sam Barnovitz, Maurice Crystal, Sophie Mollett, Ethel Meyers, Harry Gilbert, Joseph Epstein, Samuel Schwartz, Harry Katzoff, Sam Kline and Louis Kline. The dinner will be served by members of the B'nai B'rith Girls. Table arrangements will be made by the Mmes. Harry Kaplan, Sidney Wolff and Edwin Wetterhahn. A large committee has been working for the success of the membership drive since September. Heading the committee are Mrs. Kayla Kapen and Mrs. George Starkman, who told The Freeman, "Many of our members have been working extra diligently to swell our ranks because of a new enrollment contest. To be eligible to win, all a member has to do is enroll one new person. A prospective member is eligible when she enrolls herself."

The grand award is a gala, three-day "Knickerbocker Holiday" in New York, which includes accommodations at a fashionable hotel, dinners at various restaurants and nightclubs, tickets to shows, champagne and flowers and even beauty treatments. The contest ends Nov. 1.

The main work of Hadassah is supporting rehabilitation and training centers for refugees in Israel—those forced to flee their native lands because of the tyrannies of Hitler or Communism. Aided also are hospitals and various institutions for homeless or destitute children. Hadassah, although an organization comprised in the main of Jewish women, offers this aid on a strictly non-sectarian basis.

Wilson Denies He Blocked Funds For U. S. 'Moon'

DETROIT (AP)—Former Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson has denied charges he blocked funds for this country's earth satellite program. And he says his critic, Dr. Clifford C. Furnas, didn't know all the details of the outer space project when he was at the Pentagon.

"Furnas just didn't understand where the ball was," when he was assistant secretary of defense for research and development between November 1955 and last January, Wilson said.

The former defense secretary said the Defense Department was "interested in the project but basically it was not the Defense Department's business."

Furnas has blamed shortage of funds for the failure of the United States to beat Soviet Russia with a man-made satellite. And he has blamed the shortage directly on Wilson who he said regarded the satellite as a "scientific toy."

In an article published in Life Magazine this week, Furnas said "Some officials who now belittle Russia's Sputnik are among those who, in the first place, were not convinced of our own satellite program was worth pushing. Had they been so convinced, there is every reason to believe that a U. S. satellite could have been orbiting the earth as early as 1955."

Furnas said Wilson, who retired as defense secretary last week, had a "so-what?" attitude about the possibility that Russia would be the first to launch a satellite into space. Furnas now is chancellor of the University of Buffalo.

Democrats Talk Over Progress at Rosendale Parley

Progress of the campaign was discussed by candidates, committeemen and workers, Thursday evening at a meeting of Rosendale Democrats at Democratic headquarters. One of the propositions discussed was the necessity of calling personally upon all voters. Candidates indicated that every effort will be made to visit all homes in the town.

Meeting Oct. 24

However it was agreed that this might be impossible and all citizens have been invited to meet the candidates at Democratic headquarters or at Grange Hall on Thursday, Oct. 24, at 8 p. m. when the regular monthly meeting of the Democratic party will be held.

It was announced a program is presently being planned to organize a "Young Democrats Club" on a county and town basis which would have official status in the regular Democratic State and National organization. This group would have not only a political significance but would have a social aspect.

It was reported the financial appeal, "Dollars for Democrats," was meeting with moderate success and Mrs. May Hunter, treasurer, reported the funds meet the cost thus far incurred in the campaign.

There was a discussion on registration and attention was called to the fact that the last day for registration was Saturday, Oct. 19 from 1 p. m. to 10 p. m.

A statement regarding qualifications of all of the town candidates was presented and released.

Russians Rue This One Yet

SITKA, Alaska (AP)—At half-past three of a cool afternoon just 90 years ago today the Russians lowered their flag on this continent, giving up the huge and strategic territory of Alaska to the United States.

Alaskans from Gov. Mike Stepovich on down are celebrating the anniversary today and many voiced the suggestion of how Russia might now look upon a suggestion it give up such a great piece of land.

The hard pressed Russians handed it over for $7,200,000 in 1867. The deal was greeted with much grumbling in the states.

The 586,400 square miles, more than twice the size of Texas, was dubbed "Seward's Icebox," a reference to the climate and Secretary of State William Henry Seward, who negotiated the purchase.

Today the territory is ringed by an electronic fence designed to warn this country if Russia or any other nation should attempt a hostile move on North American shores.

The cost of the electronic fence alone is many times $7,200,000. The value of the territory's gold, furs and fish is far greater than that, too—in almost any year since the turn of the century.

PM Takes Office

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Ismail Chundrigar took the oath of office today as the sixth prime minister in Pakistan 10 years as a nation.

The 63-year-old leader of the Muslim League succeeded Hussein Suhrawardy of the Awami League, who resigned a week ago after the Republican party deserted him.

The change in government is expected to make no difference in Pakistan's pro-western policy and its close alliance with the United States, from which it receives major military and economic aid.

Mahoney Refutes Claim N. Y. Is Low Tax State

BRANTINGHAM (AP)—The Republican majority leader of the state Senate disputes Democratic Gov. Harriman's description of New York as a "low-tax state."

Sen. Walter J. Mahoney told a Lewis County Republican Committee dinner last night that Harriman's administration had kept taxes at "unnecessarily high levels."

The governor made his "low-tax" comment at an industrial development workshop in Albany sponsored by the Commerce Department two weeks ago. He asked businessmen to refrain from complaining about taxes lest new industry be discouraged from entering the state.

The Senate leader said Harriman had increased taxes on small business by vetoing Republican bills that would have continued lower tax rates in effect before Harriman took office.

Mahoney asserted that New York ranked first among the states in percentage of state revenue derived from business taxes. The New York percentage is 29.3, he said, compared with 17.8 for New Jersey, 15.9 for California, 12.5 for Ohio, 11.8 for Illinois and 10.4 for Michigan.

Mahoney said also that the increase in industrial firms during the last few years had been 5.4 per cent in New York, compared with 38.9 in California, 22.9 in New Jersey and 18 in Ohio and Indiana.

He challenged the governor to explain these figures. He gave no source for them.

Ludwig Van Beethoven, who learned to play the piano at the age of four, had conducted a theater orchestra and written three piano sonatas at the age of 12. Yet he did not know how to multiply. He spent a very unhappy young manhood because of several unsuccessful love affairs, but the crowning tragedy occurred at the age of 31 when he became very deaf. He overcame his handicap and continued to play and compose music much as he had done when his hearing was normal.

BRIDGE Squeeze Robs East of Two

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
William Grieve of Boston, another young player who distinguished himself in this summer's Nationals has moved to New York and undoubtedly will be playing in the Metropolitan championships this weekend.
In today's hand Bill shows how an expert takes advantage of a chance to pick up an extra trick.

West opened the king of clubs and East started an echo with the eight. This marked West with six clubs, and Bill noted that if West also held the ace of hearts, he would surely have overcalled. Hence there was no chance to lead the jack of hearts and steal the king.

Bill also noted that he might pick up the extra trick on a squeeze if East should happen to hold the ace and queen of hearts and the queen and jack hand with the ace. A low club was led and West won with the jack and promptly led the queen. His partner had completed the echo to show two and West saw no danger in not playing a heart right then and there.

Now Bill was ready for operation squeeze. It wasn't complicated. All he did was to play out all his trumps and discard all four of dummy's hearts. On the last trump lead East found himself in the meat grinder. He had to hang on to his three diamonds and threw the ace of hearts in desperation. It was desperation. Bill cashed his jack for a valuable overtrick.

Idaho Executes
Snowden; First
In Six Years

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—Idaho hanged Raymond Allen Snowden at 12:05 a. m. today for the murder of a woman he met a year ago in a night club.

The 36-year-old itinerant laborer from New England and New York dined on broiled lobster before shuffling the 60 feet from his death row cell to the gallows.

Warden L. E. Clapp of the Idaho State Penitentiary said Snowden stood up very well. The warden asked him if he had any last words.

"I can't put into words what I want to say," Snowden responded.

Mrs. Cory Lucyle Dean, 48, of Boise, was found murdered in Garden City, a Boise suburb, on Sept. 21, 1956. She had been stabbed 29 times. Snowden was arrested two days later. He said they quarreled over taking a taxi to Boise after leaving a nightclub. It was the first execution in Idaho since April 17, 1951, when two men died for the holdup-slashing of a Boise grocer.

Warden Clapp said Snowden's brother messaged from Boston that the family did not wish to claim the body. It will be buried in the cemetery behind the penitentiary.

Snowden originally pleaded innocent to killing Mrs. Dean but later changed his plea to guilty. He had been scheduled for execution last December but his lawyer appealed to the State Supreme Court.

The court turned down the appeal in July, saying it could find no mitigating circumstances.

GE Gets Mine Orders

SCHENECTADY (AP)—The General Electric Co. will install almost 1½ million dollars worth of magnetic and acoustic minesweeping electrical systems on 15 U. S. Navy minesweepers.

GE yesterday announced receipt of the orders, for installation on wooden vessels of the MSC class, to be built at west coast and Florida shipyards.

The equipment will be manufactured at General Electric plants in Schenectady, Roanoke, Va., and Erie, Pa.

There are about 2,500,000 motor trucks on American farms.

The cost of building the Panama Canal was $525,812,661.

Kasper Is Held,
Awaits Transfer
To U. S. Prison

WASHINGTON (AP)—Segregationist John Kasper was held in jail here today awaiting transfer to a federal prison to serve a one-year term for contempt of court.

He was arrested last night by U. S. marshals on orders from Federal District Judge Robert L. Taylor of Knoxville, Tenn.

Taylor found Kasper guilty of contempt in September 1956 on grounds Kasper violated an injunction prohibiting interference with racial integration at the Clinton, Tenn., high school. Kasper had been free on bond since that time pending appeal.

Taylor ordered the arrest yesterday after being formally notified that the supreme court had refused to review the conviction, thus letting it stand.

Kasper was arrested at the office of the Seaboard White Citizens Council here. The office of Atty. Gen. Brownell will determine the federal prison where Kasper will serve his sentence.

A second criminal contempt action against Kasper is pending before Judge Taylor in Knoxville.

Kasper was convicted a second time of contempt last July when he and six residents of the Clinton area were found guilty of violating the same injunction which led to Kasper's first contempt conviction.

Passage of Amendment No. 1 Urged
To Expand State's College System

By CHARLES DUMAS

ALBANY (AP)—Should New York State go 250 million dollars into debt to expand its college facilities?

The question is among several important ones that voters of this state will find on their election ballots Nov. 5.

If you are keenly concerned about government affairs, you might be more interested in the proposition that asks whether a state convention should be held to revise the Constitution.

Or, if you like to play bingo, or regard the game as an evil, you might give special attention to the proposed constitutional amendment that would legalize bingo in this state.

Important to Educators

But educators see proposed Amendment No. 1 as the really big question. They are hoping parents of the burgeoning generation of college-age students will see it that way, too.

If the voters approve this first of six proposed amendments on the ballot, it means that New York will be able to borrow 250 million dollars to improve the State University system.

Would Float Bonds

The state would raise the money by floating long-term bonds.

The bond-issue proposal comes from the State University Board of Trustees, who maintain that their expansion program is a "must" if New York is to keep pace with mounting demands for higher education.

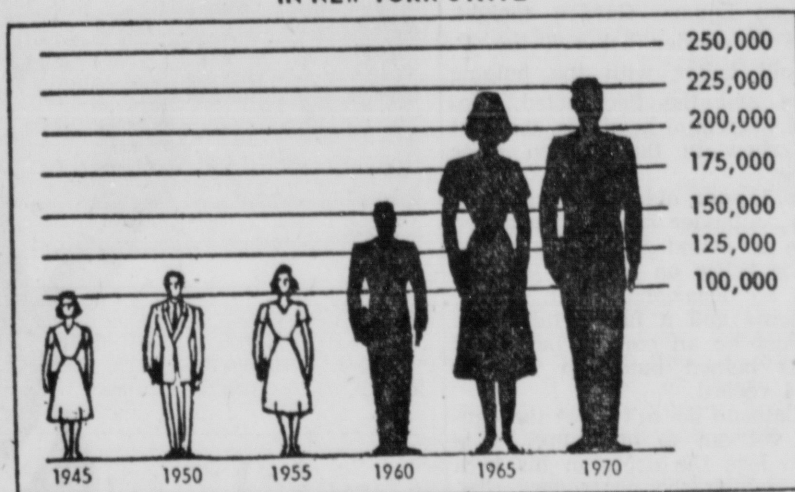

This is the picture the university paints:

The high school graduating class in New York State will be doubled by 1970. The number of college enrollments at that time will increase accordingly. Last fall, 7,000 applicants were turned away from State University colleges because of lack of facilities.

Five Year Plan

If the bond issue is approved, the university will have a five-year expansion plan ready. It calls for added facilities at each of the 28 state colleges in the system, a campus for the new college on Long Island and permanent plants for the network of community colleges.

Democratic Gov. Harriman and the leaders of the Republican-controlled Legislature have urged approval of the bond issue. Little opposition has been voiced, although there are some whose philosophy is pay-as-you-go.

EXPECTED INCREASE IN NUMBER OF HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES IN NEW YORK STATE

Besides the propositions regarding the constitutional convention and the bingo amendment (explained in previous stories), four other proposed amendments will be up for decision on election day.

Land Propositions

Two of these would subtract small segments of land from the forest preserve, which the Constitution says shall remain "forever wild."

One would allow the state to take up to 400 acres of land to straighten dangerous curves and reconstruct parts of some roads running through the preserve.

The other would permit the state to sell small parcels of preserve land that lie outside the Catskill and Adirondack State Parks. Less than 550 of the preserve's 2,468,412 acres could be sold. The money would have to be used to buy new land within the parks. The two remaining amendments deal with housing and town and village fiscal affairs.

Housing Amendment

The housing amendment would permit limited-profit housing companies to spread out interest payments on loans from the state. This is intended to eliminate lopsided interest costs at the outset of operations and thus enable companies to reduce rents.

The remaining amendment would extend to towns and villages the privilege of excluding loans from the state in computing their legal debt limits. Cities already have this privilege.

An open house for residents of Mt. Marion-Ruby Fire District will be held by Mt. Marion-Ruby Fire Company in Mt. Marion firehouse Saturday beginning at 3 p. m.

The firehouse will be open to the public for inspection of the two new fire trucks which were delivered to the district last month.

Serve Refreshments

Refreshments will be served. The two new pumpers cost the district $24,600. One is garaged in each firehouse. They are 750 gallon per minute pumpers and each has a 500 gallon booster tank.

The new trucks replace two 1936 Army surplus trucks which have been in use since the district and fire company was organized. The company reportedly has over 110 members.

Third Major League?

International
To Jersey CityHavana or Miami
To Transfer Team

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (P)—With the far-flung International League indicating a desire to retrench and then drive for major status, this part-time big league city today found itself a jumping off point in baseball's continuing battle of shifting franchises.

Home of the Brooklyn Dodgers for 15 games during the past two seasons and for years an IL salient before the Jersey City Giants moved out in 1950, this metropolis of 300,000 is just across the Hudson River from New York City.

IL President Frank Shaughnessy announced yesterday from league headquarters in Montreal that the league would move back into Jersey City in "the first big step in becoming a third major league."

New York, now a one-team city since both the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants have announced moves to the West Coast, has only the American League Yankees to draw from a metropolitan population of 12 million.

Is Open Territory

The IL, a Triple-A circuit, claimed Jersey City to replace either Havana or Miami, both of which suffered losses at the gate the past season. Other teams in the league are Rochester, Buffalo, Toronto, Montreal, Richmond and Columbus, Ohio.

Asked about reports of a possible future IL move to New York, Shaughnessy said:

"At the present time Brooklyn is still the Dodgers' territory and the Giants, too, are in New York until they make their peace with the Pacific Coast League. After they leave it becomes the territory of the American League, and the rules would have to be changed in order to claim either one."

In New York, Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick said the matter of territorial rights in the New York area would be tabled until the Giants and Dodgers have come to an agreement with the PCL. But Jersey City has always been considered open territory, he added.

Lindsey-Hall
Trades Return
To Haunt Wings

DETROIT (P)—The fans' protest when Jack Adams, the National Hockey League's master squad juggler, traded off all-time favorite Ted Lindsay and all-star goalie Glenn Hall, and they're yelling even louder now that the Detroit Red Wings have dropped three of their first four contests.

The Boston Bruins administered Detroit's third loss last night by a 5-1 count and three former Red Wing players did enough damage to make it decisive. Vic Stasiuk and Real Chevrefils, two of the Bruins' top performers, and youngster Johnny Bucyk each scored a goal. Rookie Bronco Horvath, drafted the Montreal system, scored a pair to complete the rout.

The Red Wings gave up Bucyk and Cash last winter to get goalie Terry Sawchuk back after Adams had dealt him to Boston two seasons earlier. The veteran goalie has yielded 17 goals in four games, but Adams and Coach Jimmy Skinner blame the defense for most of them.

The crowds for three home games at Olympia Stadium have been unusually slim and many fans have been leaving early—an unusual sight in the town that can boast of eight National Hockey League championships in the last nine years.

Until the Red Wings get rolling, the fans are blaming the trades that sent the popular Lindsay and Hall to the Chicago Black Hawks.

Montreal fans will have eyes for only one player tomorrow night. The player, of course, is Maurice (Rocket) Richard, one goal away from the 500-goal mark in regular season National Hockey League play.

The 26-year-old Canadiens star scored twice last night as the habitants whipped Toronto 9-3. That brought him within one of the mark. His next chance to hit it will be tomorrow when Montreal plays at home against Chicago.

The win was Montreal's third along with two ties in five games.

Alfred - Hobart
Game Called Off

ALFRED (P)—An outbreak of flu and colds at Alfred University has forced cancellation of the scheduled football game with Hobart tomorrow.

The game was to have been Hobart's alumni homecoming game. Alfred officials also said last night that the university would close for five days because of the illness. About 40 per cent of the 1,100 students were absent from classes yesterday.

Twenty of the 34-man squad were reported ill.

Easy Weekend

Wallkill and Peekskill
Hoople's Picks on GridBy MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Former Coach of Willie Heston

EGAD! The flu bug has reared its ugly head and put a crimp in schoolboy activity this weekend. Your demon prognosticator has been left with only two games—a mere drop in the bucket. So for the first time I am going to make the entire forecast without counsel from any of the former members of my large scientific staff!

In fact—har-rumph—I have fired them all. My astronomer, Dr. Roomney Schultz, Jr. and Technician Quentin Zlobotny have been reading about the Russian satellite, and neglected their work on the football forecast to turn out a satellite of their own which they named the "Cold Tomato."

Both are in the county jail after exploding their "Tomato" after a soiree at the Owls Club. The "Tomato" flattened a row of garages on Elm Street.

But enough about them. Let us get on since yours truly has a date to go hunting for small game and duck with that noted sportsman, Hans Von Schmidt.

Wallkill 13, Marlboro 13. Peekskill 14, Middletown 13. As for the college lads, I'm selecting several powerful upsets. In the past, your prophet has foretold such shockers as South Carolina over Texas, Wyoming over Kansas State, SMU over California and so on down the line.

I'm selecting Penn to beat Brown, Auburn over Georgia Tech, Rice over SMU, Iowa State over Missouri, Wisconsin to defeat Iowa, and Stanford to humble Washington.

Now go on with the rest of the forecast:

Army 20, Pittsburgh 13. Pennsylvania 20, Brown 14. Navy 20, Georgia 6. Penn State 14, Vanderbilt 7. Dartmouth 13, Holy Cross 13. Cornell 19, Yale 13. Columbia 14, Harvard 7. Princeton 14, Colgate 7. Spartans Oppose
Purdue Saturday

EAST LANSING, Mich. (P)—The best winning college football team in the country against the best losing team.

That's the way the Saturday struggle shapes up when star-studded Michigan State, the No. 1 team in the nation, meets poor-luck Purdue.

Michigan State swept through Indiana 54-0, outclassed California 19-0 and then wrecked Michigan 35-6 to take top spot in the Associated Press poll from Oklahoma.

Purdue, meanwhile, lost its first three starts, 12-0 to revitalized Notre Dame, 21-17 to highly-rated Minnesota and 23-14 to Wisconsin.

"Who else has a schedule like us?" queried Purdue Coach Jack Mollenkopf.

"Minnesota is No. 4, and we pushed them all around. Notre Dame is No. 8 and we didn't do bad and Wisconsin is in 13th place. So now we take on what everybody agrees is the top team in the country."

Statistics proved that statistics don't prove anything in that Purdue-Minnesota game. Purdue made 25 first downs and Minnesota six. Purdue had the ball 86 times and Minnesota 42.

Yet Minnesota, considered Michigan State's main rival for Big Ten championship and Rose Bowl honors, won the game.

Michigan State is a 20-point favorite right now with the odds makers.

For Ducks and Small Game

Woods Open Thru Weekend

Light Rainfall
Lessens Hazard

ALBANY (P)—Hunting of small game and duck will be allowed at least through the weekend, without any restrictions on open seasons because of the danger of fire in dry forests.

The State Conservation Department said last night that rain had lessened temporarily the fire danger in the forests.

Sharon J. Mauhs, conservation commissioner, had said Tuesday that it might be necessary to suspend hunting if rain did not wet the woodlands within three days.

The Weather Bureau said yesterday's rain was light in most areas of the state and moderate in some others. A forecaster said he doubted that the wetting would provide more than temporary relief from the dry spell.

Eleven Areas Burned

The Conservation Department reported that 26 fires Wednesday burned 11 acres of forest. This brought the totals since last Saturday to 46 fires and more than 300 acres.

Solon Hyde, chief of the department's division of forest fire control, said that Wednesday's fires included: 8, burning 91 acres, on the Southern Tier; 15, covering 15 acres, in the Adirondacks; and 3, burning 5 acres, in the Catskills.

In view of the dry condition of the woods, Hyde said, the number of fires was relatively low.

USOA Reports
Money Surplus

NEW YORK (P)—The United States Olympic Assn. never had it so good, financially speaking. And for that it probably can thank Russia's entrance into the international athletic competition.

The USOA yesterday reported a surplus of $1,563,302.78—a far cry from the years 1920 to 1948 when the organization lived a precarious financial existence. Often the team sailed for the Olympics without adequate funds to cover the operation.

But in 1950 Russia entered the competition and Olympic fund raisers found they had a new appeal to the public that supports the U. S. team.

Treasurer R. Max Ritter reported on the even of national Olympic day collections of $2,939,170.61 over the past four years. Of this amount $1,375,867.83 was spent to send teams to the Pan American games in Mexico City in 1955, the Winter Olympics at Cortina, Italy, in 1956 and the summer games in Melbourne last year.

Hoad Triumphs

PRETORIA, South Africa (P)—Lew Hoad, latest addition to Jack Kramer's professional tennis stable, defeated countryman Ken Rosewall, 5-7, 6-2, 6-3 in his South African debut yesterday before 1,500 spectators, including Premier Joannes Strijdom. Kramer beat Pancho Segura 6-3, 6-2. Segura and Kramer subdued Hoad and Rosewall 6-3, 6-4 in a double match.

Aldo Venturi on Next Card

An Australian tag-team match featuring four of the best known wrestlers on the current TV and Madison Square Garden circuit will back up the Argentine Rocca-Irish Denny McShain wrestling headliner Monday night at the municipal auditorium.

Cowboy Rocky Lee, the 325-pound meanie from Del Rio, Texas, and Bob Wallace, a 240-pounder, take on the highly theatrical Dr. Jerry Graham, 237, and Aldo Venturi, the 231-pound sculptor's model.

The bout will be a best-of-three falls with 45 minute time limit. Lee, Graham and Venturi have appeared here in the past and are solid favorites with local audiences.

Promoter Ted Bayly of Troy will announce a third bout later.

New Paltz Track

The favored Seniors scored 86½ points to capture laurels in the tenth annual inter-class track and field meet at New Paltz Central School.

It was actually the third straight victory for the Senior aggregation which had won as sophomores in 1955 and as juniors in 1956.

The seventh grade team made track history by taking the Junior division with 62 points, the first seventh grade squad ever to beat the eighth graders.

A star-studded sophomore aggregation showed surprising strength to finish second with 61 points in the Senior competition. The freshmen were third with 29½ points, a new high for their class.

Numerous Schools Hit

Flu Germ Plays Major Role in College Games

But All Leading Contests Are On

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

The flu germ has cut a heavy swath through the collegiate football schedule for the third straight week. But nevertheless there will be the usual jockeying for position in the upper echelon as Michigan State, reigning king, entertains winless Purdue, and Oklahoma, the shaky but plotting former monarch, plays Kansas tomorrow.

Numerous games have been cancelled and many teams weakened by the flu bug. But all of the prestige games will be played. In several instances, teams which would have been idle because of their opponents' physical condition have agreed to play each other.

Drake was forced to call off its game with Colorado State Univ. Omaha also cancelled its contest with Bradley. So Colorado State will play Bradley at Peoria, Ill. In western Pennsylvania, St. Vincent cancelled its scheduled meeting with Waynesburg and California Teachers cancelled off its game with Edinboro Teachers, thus setting up a Waynesburg-Edinboro clash to highlight Wayneburg's homecoming day festivities. Wheaton, Ill., scheduled Kentucky State to replace flu-crippled Illinois Wesleyan.

Among other games cancelled were RPI-Union and Alfred-Hobart.

Big Schools Hit

Many major schools also have been weakened by the virus. But no manpower shortage has been reported at Oklahoma or Michigan State. As a result neither the Spartans nor the Sooners are expected to have any undue difficulty, although Oklahoma has proved at least that it's human in its three victories.

The suspicion that Bud Wilkinson's outfit might get beaten somewhere along the line—plus its relatively influenced the voters in this week's Associated Press poll to send Michigan State to the top. Last week, Oklahoma had to come from behind to defeat Texas, which had not been rated a problem, 21-7. Meanwhile, Michigan State was grinding out a 35-6 conquest over a strong Michigan outfit.

While these two Goliaths are striving to cement and improve their positions, respectively, there are loads of other top games around the country and plenty with considerable significance.

Consider Washington State-Oregon and Army-Pitt at opposite ends of the country.

Chance for State

If Washington State can get by Oregon, the Cougars are almost certain to be elected the Pacific for the Rose Bowl—and this is no mean feat for they haven't played in the game since 1931 and haven't won since 1916.

Only Washington State, Stanford, California and Oregon are eligible. The Cougars already have licked California and Stanford, so if they get by Oregon, they will have no one else to beat among the eligibles.

Then there is the case of Army-Pitt. These two teams are in the thick of the fight for the Eastern championship—mythical though it is.

Pitt lost its opener to Oklahoma, but has won three in a row since. The Panthers are receptive to bowl bids, but if there are too many bids on their record, they could be bypassed.

Army is hoping to rebound from its defeat by Notre Dame last week. The Cadets are aware that this is the last strong opposition on its schedule until the Navy game—the season finale.

Auburn's Chance

In the South, possibly the biggest game is the Auburn-Georgia Tech affair. No two ways about it, undefeated Auburn has its eyes set on the Southeastern Conference championship this year.

It's a tough league, though, and Georgia Tech is not the least of the problems confronting Auburn. The Engineers, incidentally, will be trying to atone for their loss to Louisiana State last week. LSU, for its part, also is in the thick of things and plays Kentucky in a league game.

In the Big 10, two of the pretenders to Michigan State's throne, Minnesota and Wisconsin, play important games. The Gophers go against Illinois, while the Badgers journey to defending champion Iowa.

The big one in the Southwest Conference is Texas A&M, trailing in the wake of Michigan State and Oklahoma as No. 3 team in the country, and Texas Christian, Arkansas, which might give Texas A&M a run for the league crown, meets Texas.

Duke, No. 5 in the country behind Minnesota, plays Wake Forest in an important Atlantic Coast Conference game, while Maryland plays host to North Carolina and Queen Elizabeth in another.

Other leading games:

EAST—Villanova at Boston College, Penn at Brown, Yale at Cornell, Columbia at Harvard, Dartmouth at Holy Cross, Vanderbilt at Penn State, Colgate at Princeton.

MIDWEST—Marquette at Cincinnati (N), Missouri at Iowa State, Colorado at Kansas State, Northwestern at Michigan, Syracuse at Nebraska, Indiana at Ohio State.

SOUTH—Tennessee vs Alabama at Birmingham, Richmond at The Citadel, Mississippi State at Florida, Georgia vs Navy at Norfolk, Va.

SOUTHWEST—Wichita at Hardin Simmons (N), Oklahoma State at Houston (N), Rice at Southern Methodist (N).

FAR WEST—Southern California at California, Utah at Denver, Oregon State at UCLA, Montana at Utah State, Stanford at Washington, Brigham Young at Wyoming.

Tonight: West Virginia at George Washington, North Carolina State at Miami (Fla), Mississippi at Tulane.

Packers Lose

Knafelc for Year

GREEN BAY (N)—The Green Bay Packers received a heavy blow yesterday when it was learned that first string end Gary Knafelc will be out for the remainder of the National Football League season with a cartilage injury in his knee.

Knafelc, who with Billy Howton forms a strong offensive end unit, suffered what was described as a cartilage lock in his knee during practice yesterday.

Caribbean Tour

DUNEDIN, Fla., (NEA)—The Professional Golfers Association will co-sponsor four tournaments on the Caribbean circuit this winter, starting with the Jamaica Open, Feb. 2-5.

Swoon's Son Gets Alternate Bid For $100,000 Race

LAUREL, Md. (N)—With the owners of Round Table and Gallant Man suddenly acting coy, Swoon's Son was named today as the first United States alternate in the Washington, D. C. International Race on Nov. 11.

Invitations for Gallant Man and Round Table, the country's top 3-year-olds, had been accepted weeks ago for the $100,000 race. But Travis Kerr, owner of Round Table, indicated strongly this week he will start instead in the Trenton Handicap at Garden State Park on Nov. 9.

Kerr also has reacted favorably to a suggested match race between Round Table and Gallant Man at Agua Caliente, Mexico.

Ralph Lowe, owner of Gallant Man, doesn't want to talk now about the match race. First, he says, he must decide if the colt will race in the International.

Facing such uncertainty, an international board of turf writers set up a list of substitutes headed by Swoon's Son, 4-year-old owned by E. Gay Drake.

The others are Chevalier, Find, Reneged, Third Brother and Tudor Era.

Upstate Big 3 Elevens Ready

SYRACUSE (N)—Upstate's big football three enter the lists tomorrow with only minor casualties from pre-game ambushes by Asian flu.

Syracuse, the most severely hit, reported that its entire squad would make the trip to Lincoln, Nebraska, and the Orange's prospects seemed undimmed for adding one more to Nebraska's many defeats.

Cornell said that the few Big Red players afflicted had fully recovered and that the starting lineup would be intact for favored Yale's invasion of Schoellkopf Field in Ithaca.

Colgate goes Jersey-ward to take on unbeaten Princeton. Mercifully, the flu has so far spared the underdog Red Raiders, beaten in their last two games.

Syracuse said some of its players might be feeling the after-effects of the flu. But Nebraska, which in four starts has won only one game, will have a hard time matching the Orange's alert defense and improving ground and air attack. Syracuse's best showing in two victories and a tie was its 34-0 triumph over Cornell.

The Big Red's loss was their second for the season. They succumbed to Colgate 14-13 in the opener, then conquered Harvard, 20-6. Cornell's chances are slim, however, for a second Ivy League victory against Yale, which has suffered only one defeat, a one-pointer to Brown, in three contests.

On the record Colgate is even more heavily an underdog, facing the powerful Tiger, undefeated in three games. After the Raiders' slim edge over Cornell, they were crushed twice—40-0 against Illinois and 48-6 against Rutgers.

Giants Corral Dallas Pitcher

SAN FRANCISCO (N)—The San Francisco Giants yesterday bought righthander Tommy Bowers, from Dallas, of the Texas League. A Giant spokesman did not divulge the price for the 20-game winner but said it was in the upper level figures.

Bowers, 23, had a 20-8 record in the Double A League last year and was voted league-pitcher-of-the-year by sports writers.

A graduate of Southern Methodist University, he entered professional baseball at Dallas, in 1955, and won 17 games the next year.

Knicks, College Stars, Trotters On Garden Bill

The 1957-58 edition of the New York Knickerbockers of the National Basketball Association meet the College All Stars at Madison Square Garden Saturday night in the annual double-header featuring the Harlem Globetrotters.

The Trotters take on the Washington Generals at 7:15 p. m. The program is being staged for the benefit of the Free Milk Fund for Babies for the sixth straight year.

Coach Frank McGuire of North Carolina will pilot the College All Stars who are expected to present a starting lineup of Charlie Tyra, Louisville; Lennie Rosenbluth, North Carolina State; Dick Duckett, St. John's; Hot Rod Hundley, West Virginia; and Brendan McCann of St. Bonaventure. The program will not be televised.

Brown Blames Eagles for Fight

CLEVELAND (N)—Coach Paul E. Brown, still concerned about the rough stuff that nearly turned last Sunday's game into a riot, didn't come right out and say it was the fault of the Philadelphia Eagles.

But he told a local radio audience last night that National Football League Commissioner Bert Bell knows the Cleveland Browns were not responsible for starting the fights.

Seven players were ejected during the game, which the Browns won 24-7, and players from both benches swarmed onto the field in the fourth quarter to join in a wild melee.

It was the 12th straight loss for Philadelphia, going back to last season and including 1957 exhibitions, and Brown said even the Philadelphia coaches were a "little frantic."

He said before the game the Philadelphia coaching staff protested that the sealskin brown jerseys worn by the Browns made it hard to keep track of the ball. The protest was taken to Bell by phone, Brown said.

The coach said it was the first time since he had been coaching professional clubs that anyone had protested the color of the uniforms. A ball with white stripes—the type used in night games—was used during the Browns-Eagles encounter. The uniforms were not changed.

The Browns and the Eagles have a return match scheduled for Sunday at Philadelphia, and Bell has said he will watch the game. Bell saw last Sunday's game on television, but he didn't see any of the fistfights because television cameras, by Bell's own order, are turned away from such displays.

On Rebound

DETROIT, (NEA)—Coach Charley Eckman believes the Pistons' biggest weakness in Fort Wayne last season was cleared up for Detroit when they got Harry Gallatin and Sweetwater Clifton from the New York Knickerbockers. They excel on rebounds.

Running to Form

ATLANTA, (NEA)—Georgia Tech, which makes a profession of winning enough football games each fall to land in a bowl game, is even more professional-looking on the field this year. Tech has strengthened its "belly series" with spread stuff used by the pros.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE... with... MAJOR HOOPLE

Lone Wolf casually dropped into Smoky Pete's quick-lunch emporium and demanded lemon pie. One slice was not enough. The Indian purchased a whole pie, into which he dived with such evidence of enjoyment that the proprietor, as he tickled the cash register, could not resist inquiring:

Proprietor—Well, chief, how was the pie?

Chief—Filling heap good, but crust lots tough.

It was not until then that

Smoky Pete discovered his paper pie plate had disappeared.

The head of the firm was frowning over a letter. Calling for his chief clerk, he said: Head of Firm—That typist—you certainly didn't engage her on account of her grammar.

Chief Clerk—Grammar? When you were emphasizing the importance of grammar—well, I thought you said "glamour"!

Those who bestow too much application on trifling things, become generally incapable of great ones.

A man looking at some neckties tossed one or two aside contemptuously. Lingered after having made his purchase, he noticed that the clerk put those he had so positively rejected in a separate box.

Man—What becomes of those?

Clerk—We sell them to the women who come in here to buy ties for men.

Young Man—Do you sing and play much (to pretty girl who was carelessly thrumming the keys of the piano).

Girl—Only to kill time.

Young Man—You've got a fine weapon, I must admit.

However, he had a very good reason for choosing beer.

Window Cleaner—You see, ma'am, I find that beer always gives a better polish when I breathe on the glass.

A young city girl was vacationing in the country and became friendly with a farmer boy. One evening as they were strolling across a pasture they saw a cow and calf rubbing noses in the accepted bovine fashion.

Farmer Boy—Ah, that sight makes me want to do the same.

Girl—Well, go ahead, it's your cow.

Reds Tell Gore Mammoth Atomic Plants Going Up

WASHINGTON — Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) said today the Russians told him they had started construction on two atomic power plants larger than anything the United States even has "in the talking stage."

Gore, who returned yesterday from an European trip including five days in the Soviet Union, said he was not permitted to see either plant despite persistent requests to do so.

But the senator added in an interview that he knew no reason to doubt the Russian claims. He said his experience had made him more determined than ever to push for strong U. S. moves to win the international atomic power race.

The Russian experts told him one of the plants would generate 420,000 kilowatts of electricity and the other plant 400,000, Gore reported. The completion date for both was set as 1960. "We don't even have a 100,000-kilowatt plant in prospect before 1961," he commented. "And anything bigger than 200,000 kilowatts isn't even in the talking stage over here."

There are about 30,000,000 anglers in the United States.

Lunar Station On Moon Next On Soviet List

LONDON — A Soviet mathematician said today that "a Soviet lunar physical station, to be called Mirnaya, may soon appear on the moon."

Aleksandr Aleksandrov, rector of the Leningrad University, made this statement in the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia. Moscow Radio broadcast a brief English language account of the article but gave no details of the station.

Presumably it would be some sort of automatic, unmanned station, since scientists in both the east and west have predicted that would be the first step in man's attempt to reach the moon.

There has been considerable speculation that the Russians would mark the 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution on Nov. 7 with some new space project as a followup to their Sputnik, the artificial satellite circling the earth.

The Soviet moon station apparently will be a lady. Mirnaya is the feminine form of peaceful.

A week ago Soviet scientist V. V. Dobronravov said successful five-day flights to the moon were possible if rockets could be launched with a speed of 11 kilometers (about 7 miles) per second. The Sputnik attained a speed of 8 kilometers a second to reach its orbit.

Dobronravov predicted moon flights during this century but did not indicate they were just around the corner.

Coaching Is Scored Of Girard Witnesses

MAEBASHI, Japan — An American officer today pictured a key prosecution witness against GI William S. Girard as a trouble-maker who tried to coach other witnesses in their stories.

Lt. Col. Walter C. Sharp, testifying in the Ottawa, Ill., soldier's Japanese manslaughter trial, made the accusations against Hidetsugu Onozeki. Onozeki has testified Girard lured Mrs. Naka Sakai, 46, closer on the firing range last Jan. 30, then shot and killed her.

Girard admits firing the fatal shot—an empty cartridge from a grenade launcher—but claims it hit Mrs. Sakai by accident.

Sharp, Girard's battalion commander from Beach Haven, N. J., said while he was questioning a witness on the army firing range, Onozeki and other collectors of scrap brass "tried to get him to change his story."
